Presentation of Institutional Repository within Erasmus+ DIRNA project

On January 10, 2025, an Institutional Repository was presented within the framework of the Erasmus+DIRNA project, which will collect research materials from 8 partner Azerbaijani universities.

During the presentation, the repository's structure, metadata entry, self-archiving capabilities, and statistical functions were demonstrated to the academic staff of Khazar University. Additionally, the academic staff received practical training on creating personal pages in the self-archiving service and uploading research materials to researcher's personal pages.

The presentation was conducted by Dr. Hafiz Muhammad Azeem Akram, lecturer at the Computer Science Department of Khazar University.
