

Online Meeting Held Within DIRNA Project

The next online meeting with the participation of partner universities within the framework of the DIRNA project was organized on November 24, 2025. The meeting was moderated by Aytac Misgarli, Director of the Library-Information Center at Khazar University, and was conducted within the framework of the D4.5 task titled "Permanent Seminars on Research Activities" in accordance with the project's fourth work package.

At the event, Saana Mehtälä, representative of the University of Jyväskylä (Finland), delivered a presentation on "Data management in inclusive education, open science resources and research accessibility." She provided information about JYX, the University of Jyväskylä's digital platform, and presented in detail the process of providing data and metadata. She then discussed the Converis research information system (CRIS) and explained to participants the support the system provides in enhancing the visibility of researchers' scientific activities, increasing accessibility, and expanding impact.

The meeting, which generated great interest among participants, concluded with question-and-answer discussions.
